RESCUE PLANES AND SHIPS STILL SEARCHING FOR ANY SURVIVORS FROM THE PAMIR

London — (AP) — The Hamburg owners of the German sailing ship Pamir said today they presumed the four-masted bark had been lost in the storm-lashed Atlantic.

The owners held out hope, however, that some survivors of 88 board might still be found.

The sailing vessel vanished Saturday after radioing that she had lost all her sails about 550 miles southwest of the Azores.

The owners said 62 cadets, of whom 25 were on their first trip, were aboard the vessel. There were 17 regular crew men and 7 officers. This made a total of 88 persons aboard.

The finding of two empty lifeboats and a raft previously had raised fears the vessel had gone down.

Rescue planes and ships crisscrossed the mid-Atlantic without finding a trace of the four-masted bark that had weathered many a storm in her 52 years at sea.

Her operators held out hope that the Pamir had survived the storm kicked up by Hurricane Carrie. It was pointed out the lifeboats and raft could have been ripped from their lashings.

The Pamir, carrying barley from Buenos Aires, to Hamburg, radioed Saturday night that she was sinking about 600 miles west of the Azores.

The ship was listing at 45 degrees and all sails had been stripped away.

Girl Lives Through 7,600-Volt Jolt

Denver (AP)—Gretta Bohlmann, 9, got up and walked away yesterday from a 7,600-volt shock, three times that used in electric chairs.

She is under treatment at Porter Hospital today for burns of the left hand and arm, chest, stomach and thigh.

Restaurant operator Phillip Frye said he found Gretta walking away after she suffered the jolt in a high-voltage shed at a shopping center where she brushed against a transformer.

Frye went to investigate after the electricity went off at his cafe.

MORE HOFFA TO BE AIRED BY SENATE PROBE

Washington (AP)—Senate Rackets probers said today their new hearings will explore reports that James R. Hoffa lent a million dollars of Teamsters Union funds to a Minneapolis department store struck by the retail clerks union.

Public hearings by the special committee under Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) are to open tomorrow.

A committee spokesman said Benjamin Drainow, chairman of the board of John W. Thomas & Co., of Minneapolis has been subpoenaed for quizzing about loans his store reportedly received from Hoffa last year.

The spokesman said the money came from funds of the Michigan conference of Teamsters, in chunks of $200,000 and $500,000.

He said the committee has been told the store was in financial difficulty because of the strike by the clerks union.

He said the first $200,000 was loaned at a time when Teamsters Union members were refusing to cross the clerks' picket lines to make deliveries to and from the store.

"The strike was called off," he said, adding that the committee will attempt to find out why.

"We hope to learn the full story of the situation behind the loan," he said.

The committee has invited Hoffa to attend and reply to testimony if he chooses. He has not indicated whether he will.

TWO VEXING PROBLEMS IN FALL ELECTION

Harrisburg — (AP) — Voter approval of two proposed constitutional amendments in the Nov. 5 general election will raise two vexing problems for the 1959 Legislature.

The questions before the voters will be (1) Should absentee voting be authorized for persons who are ill or unavoidably out of town, and (2) Whether to borrow 150 million dollars to finance a bonus to Korean veterans.

Both proposals to amend the commonwealth's basic law were passed by both the 1955 and 1957 Legislatures with terminology that must be clarified by enabling legislation during future sessions.

On the first question—absentee voting—neither Republican nor Democratic leaders would guess on how many more votes would be cast by liberalizing absentee voting.

Such votes are now limited to bedridden or hospitalized veterans or to servicemen on out-of-state assignments.

The bonus was tied into the question of raising taxes to pay for a bond issue. The text of the proposed amendment sets out that the bonds cannot be issued until they have been financed by taxes to pay for them.

Although the 1957 Legislature fixed the bonus ceiling at $500 and otherwise set up the machinery for paying it, the next session must see action on taxes.

Man Gets 3½ to 7 Years For Inspiring Perjury

Greensburg (AP)—A Blairsville man convicted of subordination of perjury today was fined $1,000 and sentenced to from 3½ to 7 years in Western State Penitentiary.

Judge Richard D. Laird imposed the sentence on Thomas Clark. He was charged with inducing his two sons, John and Robert, to withhold information at a trial in which the three were charged with assault and battery.

Clark and his son, Robert, were acquitted of the assault and battery charge but John was convicted and sentenced to Western State Penitentiary where he now is serving a 3 to 6 year term.

The convicted man's wife charged that her father-in-law induced the two sons to tell the court they did not know who stabbed Stanley Sulkoski, Jr., with a knife Aug. 31, 1956.

Wind, Rain Lash Pennsylvania Over The Past Weekend

Pittsburgh — (AP) — Wind and rain lashed western Pennsylvania over the weekend, causing extensive damage and injuring at least three persons. More rain was forecast for today.

A total of 1.10 inches of rain was dumped on Warren from 8 to 11 p. m. yesterday, with leaves clogging storm sewers. Some minor flooding resulted.

Erie county appeared to be hardest hit. It was there that the three injuries occurred. Wind uprooted trees and knocked out utility lines in a 14-block area in Erie.

Flying debris broke windows and caused other damage to homes in the area. Cut by pieces of flying glass late Saturday were Mrs. Concetta Di Francisco, 71, her daughter, Helen, 42, and Mrs. John De Salvo, 52.

One inbound lane of the Penn-Lincoln Parkway, near Pittsburgh, was closed by huge rocks that washed down from a hillside.

The wind caused a short circuit in a fire alarm system in Lawrence County and left some areas in Apollo, Vandergrift, and Leechburg without telephone service for a time.

About 9 p. m. sharp lightning cracked through the Kiski Valley district from Tarentum to Saltsburg.

Rescue operations were proceeding. The nearest shaft was damaged by the explosion, and rescue crews were attempting to reach the men through an entrance nearly five miles away.

Work was slowed by lingering fires in some areas of the mine, police said.

Trapped by the explosion were nine foremen, a fire boss and a pumper who had gone on an inspection tour.

The mine is near the small community of Marianna about 45 miles south of Pittsburgh. Bethlehem Mines Corp. is an affiliate of Bethlehem Steel Corp., and produces coal for Bethlehem steel mills.

In 1907, before the mine was acquired by Bethlehem, an explosion killed 130 men there, one of the most serious mine accidents on record in this coal-rich region of extreme southwestern Pennsylvania.

Cause of today's blast was not determined immediately.

Issue of Seating Red China in U.N. To Be Sidetracked

United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—The General Assembly is expected today to sidetrack until next year the question of seating Communist China in the U. N.

Delegates generally foresaw that the Assembly would adopt a U. S. resolution late today on recommendation of its Steering Committee.

Indian sources conceded that India lacked the votes to get the Chinese representation issue on the agenda.

Nationalist Chinese Delegate K. Y. Yu told a reporter his delegation calculated perhaps 50 delegations will vote for the U. S. The vote last year was 47-24 with 8 abstentions.

The U. S. resolution, which cleared the Steering Committee 9-4 with 2 abstentions Thursday, reflected the Indian request. It said the Assembly would consider no proposals this session to oust Nationalist or seat Communist China.

John Diefenbaker, Canada's new prime minister, chose the Assembly's morning meeting as the occasion for his first major foreign policy speech.

Frenchman Gets Drunk Without Any Drinking

Lille, France (AP)—A motorist arrested here for drunk-driving succeeded in convincing the judge he was drunk, but hadn't touched a drop.

The motorist was a chemist. He pleaded that ether vapors inhaled in laboratory work intoxicated him. Medical experts confirmed it could be. The judge let the chemist go home and sleep it off.

Explosion Traps 14 Men in Mine Near Pittsburgh

Washington, Pa. (AP)—A thundering explosion today trapped 11 men deep in the Marianna mine of Bethlehem Mines Corp.

Hours later some of the trapped men reported via an emergency telephone line that all 11 were alive, but several had been burned, a police report said.

Bethlehem officials reported shortly after noon that mine officials on the scene report they know that six of the men definitely are alive, although some of them may have sustained serious burns.

The fate of the other five is not known, the company said.

The company said the explosion of undetermined origin occurred at 7:15 a. m. and trapped the men approximately 550 feet below the surface.

Weekend Accidents In the State Kill 12

By The Associated Press

Two fishermen drowned and a dozen persons were killed in highway mishaps as accidents claimed 20 lives in Pennsylvania over the weekend.

Two of the highway deaths occurred when a car crashed into two utility poles Sunday near Hellertown. Killed were Russell Snyder, 23, and Annette Stoneback, 20, both of Hellertown.

The two fishermen were on an outing together Sunday on Newton Lake near Carbondale. Police theorized one of the men fell overboard, and the other jumped in to try to rescue him. The two drowning victims were identified as Peter Kostick, 36, Olyphant, and Walter Pelish, 52, Blakely.

DRAFT CALL

Harrisburg (AP)—State selective headquarters today issued a call for induction of 500 men from Pennsylvania in November, all over 22 years. The figure compared with 504 men to be inducted in October.

Murtaugh Retained as Manager For Next Year By The Pirates

Pittsburgh (AP)—Danny Murtaugh who, as acting manager put new life into the Pittsburgh Pirates after the mid-season firing of Bobby Bragan, was named manager for the 1958 season.

The announcement of Murtaugh's appointment was made at a morning news conference called by the general manager, Joe L. Brown. Terms of the one-year contract were not disclosed.

Murtaugh succeeded Bragan Aug. 3 after Brown dismissed the fiery skipper for what he called the "general welfare of the club."

The genial 39-year-old Irishman accepted the managerial post for the balance of the season with the understanding it was only temporary.

Since Bragan's dismissal, the Pirates have been playing nearly .500 ball and the pitching corps, especially Bob Friend and Ronnie Kline, seemed to gain new confidence after a dismal start.

Someone suggested to me that Danny Murtaugh should get a chance to manage the 1958 club. The thought never entered my mind," Brown said. "I had no thought he would be manager in 1958. He will be."

"Murtaugh has matured as manager since our first association in 1954. In 45 games since he took over from Bragan he has handled the club exceedingly well."

PLEADS GUILTY

Harrisburg (AP)—John W. Crendall, former York County highway superintendent, pleaded guilty in Dauphin County Court today to charges of conspiring to defraud the state in the sale of cinders.

The plea was entered by Judson Ruch, York, counsel for the Manchester, R. D. 1 resident. Ruch requested postponement of sentence until after disposition of three companion cases charging an overall conspiracy to defraud the state of $45,000.

Judge Homer L. Kreider granted the motion to postpone sentence.

Eisenhower Asks the Finance Ministers To Fight Inflation

BY STERLING F. GREEN

Washington — (AP)— President Eisenhower today appealed to the free world's finance ministers to fight inflation, lest global prosperity turn into a depression "and all the evil consequences we know so well."

Eisenhower addressed the opening session of the boards of government of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, convening here for their 12th annual meeting with delegates from 64 nations.

He warned that inflation has become "a worldwide phenomenon today," and must be recognized as "a threat to sound economic growth."

The problem calls for wise and courageous leadership in every country, the President declared. Eisenhower had interrupted his Newport, R. I., vacation to address the colorful assembly of some 500 bank governors, alternates, delegates and observers. He received warm applause.

In an oblique reference to the problem of rising wage costs, blamed by some in this country for persistent inflationary pressures, Eisenhower suggested that the nations consider whether the sums they pay themselves are rising in step with the goods and services they produce. If so, he said, there is no impetus to rising prices.

"But if our efficiency does not increase, if our productivity does not rise, we as nations will tend to fall into the costly error of overpaying ourselves for the work we do," he said.

"Along that road, as so many countries are again discovering, lies the spur to further inflation."

"Little Bird" Is Probable Winner Of Bloody Election

Tegucigalpa, Honduras (AP)—The Liberals of Dr. Ramon Villeda Morales, the popular "Little Bird" of Honduras' masses, today appeared a landslide winner in yesterday's violence-marred elections.

At least four killings were reported in clashes between political partisans in two provincial towns. Elsewhere voting was orderly and the military junta's promise of a free election appeared fulfilled.

A constitutional assembly chosen in the balloting will meet Oct. 21 to form a new government replacing the junta that has ruled for a year.

The assembly can declare itself a national congress and elect a president. If the Liberals win two thirds of the seats they could hand the presidency to Villeda Morales, former ambassador to Washington. He missed election by a slim margin in 1954.

On the other hand, the assembly could call instead for congressional and presidential elections. Villeda Morales says he prefers this course.

There has been dissension in the Liberal party. Apparently Villeda Morales counts on the people to elect him over any other Liberal who might enter the race.

On the basis of early returns, the Liberals were expected to win about 40 of the assembly's 58 seats.

A Liberal party victory had been expected. Abraham Williams, National Reformist leader, and Gen. Tiburcio Carias, former dictator and head of the Nationalists, privately conceded the Liberals would win.

Williams is a presidential aspirant. Carias wants the presidency for his son Gonzalo.

Official reports said four men were killed and nine persons wounded in outbreaks at two small towns.

National Airlines Grounded by Strike

Miami, Fla. — (AP)— National Airlines planes lay strikebound today all over NAL's 36-city system from Boston south to Miami and west to Houston, Tex.

NAL spokesmen said wildcat walkouts by ticket agents in key terminals shut operations down despite nonstriking employees' efforts to maintain service. J. M. Rosenthal, senior vice president of the line, termed the strike illegal and in defiance of injunctions by federal courts in New York and Miami.

The injunctions restrained union officials from ordering or advising any personnel to strike.

"They are in flagrant defiance of the federal court, and against the mandates of National's contract with the Air Line Agents Assn.," Rosenthal said.

The union's dispute with the company began last March before their contract was to expire April 1.

FORMER HEAD OF HERSHEY IS DEAD

Hershey, Pa. — (AP)—Charles F. Ziegler, retired president of the Hershey Estates, died yesterday at the Hershey Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was 73.

A native of Lancaster, Ziegler rose from errand boy and window washer in his home town to follow the fortunes of Milton S. Hershey, founder of the vast Hershey Chocolate Corp. and the separate enterprises that made up Hershey Estates.

Meggi Lays One More To Snatch World Acclaim

Flemington, N. J. (AP)—Meggie O'Day, the Mickey Mantle of the poultry world, has added another championship to her list of titles.

The little Leghorn hen laid another egg yesterday, her 354th in 357 days, to break the old record of eggs laid in a one-year span.

The previous record of 353 eggs in 365 days was established in 1949-50 by a Leghorn from the J. A. Hanson & Son farm in Corvallis, Ore. Meggie has seven more days to go to increase her margin over the old title holder.

Meg is shelling 'em out as a participant in the Hunterdon County egg laying contest, supervised by Prof. Clarence S. Platt of the Rutgers University College of Agriculture. Platt says she probably will continue her daily production until the end of the month.

When Meg failed to lay Aug. 14, she already had established a record by laying 284 eggs in 284 days without a miss. Since last October, the other days she has skipped an egg were last Nov. 3 and again Aug. 20.

Meg and 12 of her sisters were entered in the contest by the Stern Brothers hatchery in South Vineland.

State Ends Claim To Profits From "Fickle" Gas Well

Pittsburgh (AP)—The commonwealth of Pennsylvania today abandoned its efforts to claim some of the profits from famed "Fickle Fanny" gas well in Clinton County.

In a petition filed with Judge Henry Ellenbogen, Deputy Atty. Gen. Leonard M. Meldelson said: "A survey reveals that the well is not located on land belonging to the commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

The petition recommended that the profits be distributed to the more than 300 shareholders.

The profits have been reported to the court as totalling $628,471. There are 371 shareholders in the well.

In a petition filed with the court last August, the state asked delay in the distribution, claiming that an informer had reported the well was on state property. The information came from Charles Cameron, of Red Bank, N. J. Under a state law Cameron would be entitled to a $50,000 fee as an informer if the state's claim were established.

"Fickle Fanny" was the nickname given to the well after it developed as a spectacular producer in the Leidy Field of Clinton County. Known officially as Tamara No. 1 it produced gas only from February to October, 1952, but litigation among the claimants has delayed distribution of the profits.

DIVERSIONARY CLASH ALLOWS EIGHT TO ENTER BLOCKADED HIGH SCHOOL IN LITTLE ROCK

By REL MORIN

Little Rock, Ark. (AP)—Eight Negro pupils walked quietly, and without hurrying, into Central High School today—while the crowd's attention was diverted by another incident—and then a swirl of snarling men and screaming women tried to break through police lines.

Police fought them off, clubbing two men, and apparently pulling a gun on another.

Nobody got through.

Pupils coming out of the school said three of the Negro boys who entered school had "blood on their clothing" and fights had broken out inside the building.

The students told reporters the "Negroes were chased through the halls when classes changed" and were attacked by other students.

It was a frightening sight. Women burst into tears and a man, hoisted up on a wooden barricade, roared, "Who's going through?"

"We all are," the crowd shouted. But they didn't.

The drama-packed climax of three weeks of integration struggle in Little Rock came just after the buzzer sounded inside the big 2000-pupil high school at 8:45, signaling the start of classes.

Suddenly, on a street leading toward the school, the crowd spotted four Negro adults, marching in twos, down the center of the street.

A man yelled, "Look, here come the niggers."

They were not pupils. One appeared to be a newspaperman. He had a card in his hat and was carrying a camera.

I jumped into a glass-windowed telephone booth on the corner. The scene was clearly visible. As the crowd surged toward the four Negroes, they broke and ran.

But they were caught, on the lawn of a home nearby. Whites jumped the man with the camera from behind, rode him to the ground, kicking and beating him. They smashed the camera.

This, obviously was a planned diversionary movement to draw the crowd's attention away from the school.

White 1 was dictating what I saw, someone yelled—

"Look, they're going into the school."

At that instant, the eight Negroes—three boys and five girls—were crossing the schoolyard toward a side door at the south end of the school.

The girls were in bobby sox and the boys were dressed in open shirts. All were carrying books.

They were not running, not even walking fast. They simply strolled toward the steps, went up, and were inside before all but a few of the 200 people at that end of the street knew it.

FAUBUS A LION AT SESSION OF GOVERNORS

By JACK BELL

Sea Island, Ga. (AP)—Democratic Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida and Republican Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland agreed today a Southerner can be elected president of the United States.

But Collins said in a speech prepared for the Southern Governors Conference that any such candidate must be "an uncommon man with a common touch."

McKeldin said in a similarly prepared address that a Southerner first will have to be nominated by his party. He said this can happen only if the South releases itself "from the one-room tent in which it too long has sulked."

The Southern governors, meeting in an atmosphere of tension over the school integration controversy, turned to discussion of political topics after Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas tossed a new segregation bombshell into the middle of a cocktail party at which the state executives were greeted on their arrival here yesterday.

Murder Charge to Be Filed Following Slaying in Erie

Erie (AP)—Dist. Atty. Herbert Johnson said today he will file a murder charge against Martha Long, 27, in the fatal stabbing of Johnnie Wakefield, 35, in his Erie apartment Sunday morning.

Police said Mrs. Long, a Negro, stabbed Wakefield with a paring knife as the two were preparing dinner in his apartment. A letter from another woman apparently touched off an argument, police said.

Wakefield died yesterday shortly after being admitted to Hamot Hospital. Police said Mrs. Long attempted to end her own life when she was informed that Wakefield had died.

Mrs. Long is being held in Erie County Jail pending a hearing.

Off-Postponed 'Whitney' Blast Touched off Above Yucca Flats

Atomic Test Site, Nev. (AP)—A relatively small atomic device was fired at 5:30 a. m. today from a 500-foot tower on the Yucca Flat testing grounds. It was the off-postponed "Whitney" shot, 22nd in the 1957 series.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the energy yield was more than half of nominal, which means the blast would have the equivalent of something more than 10,000 tons of TNT.

Persons watching the explosion from Angel's Peak, some 40 miles from the detonation point, estimated the power at around 15 kilotons or 15,000 tons of TNT. The nominal bombs dropped on Japan in World War II were rated at 20,000 tons.

Newsmen were not permitted to view this test from the site itself.

A brilliant yellow flash was followed by a fireball which flared a deep red-orange color, with a purple glow tinging the rising mushroom cloud.

As the cloud rose rapidly, the stem appeared to be drawing up a considerable quantity of dirt.

The AEC said 16 scientific experiments were conducted with this test. Twenty-five aircraft flew training and data-gathering missions but there was no other military participation.

The device detonated today was designed by the University of California's radiation laboratory at Livermore.

NETTED—A strong gust of wind wraps the bridal veil around bridegroom Chris Forbes Adams after his wedding to Anne Wrenford Brown at St. Paul's Church in London, England. But unperturbed Adams doesn't seem to interpret it as a bad omen for his married life as friends help set up nuptial photographs.

Bruce Hook Shoots His Way to a State Rifle Championship

Three students from Warren High School, shooting with two senior rifle clubs in area, placed high on the list of winners in the Pennsylvania Highpower rifle championships which were held at the Fort Roberdeau rifle range near Altoona.

Bruce Hook won the Pennsylvania Junior Highpower Rifle Championship with a score of 235 points out of a possible 250 points. This excellent score included a 93 out of a possible 100 offhand and a 50 (a perfect score) out of a possible 50 slow fire sitting. For this triumph Bruce won the Junior trophy and about ten dollars worth of merchandise. Bruce's trophy is exhibited in the front hall.

Second was Paul Mahaffy, two points behind the winner with a 233 out of a possible 250 points. This score had two near possibles, a 49 out of a 50 slow fire sitting, and a 49 out of a possible 50 rapid fire prone.

Seventh place in the Junior division was taken by Rodger Rood who fired a 223 out of a 250. A tug break was dealt Rodger as he had only a 79 out of a possible 100 offhand mostly due to inclement weather.

Bruce and Paul shot with the Warren Rifle Club and Rodger shot with the Irvine Rod & Gun Club. Both clubs also did well in the team standings.

Matter Of Fact:

"I Nothing Knew"

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Warsaw—In Poland, the old political labels have been changed in a pretty unsettling way. A "conservative" is a believer in the old-style authoritarian Communism which represents the extreme "left" in the West. And a "left-winger" here is a Communist who also strongly believes in freedom.

Fryderyk, as I shall call him, is a good specimen of this new Communist "leftwing". He is a thin, blondish, rather intense young man who holds a fairly high professional position. When I met him in one of the crowded, shabby but wonderfully lively professional clubs of the Polish intelligentsia, he seemed only too pleased to explain his views.

"The whole history of the Communist Party in Poland," he began bitterly, "has been the history of a struggle for independence from Moscow."

Both this opening and Fryderyk's bitterness became more understandable when he explained that a close relation of his had been a Polish Communist leader before 1938. That was the year when Josef Stalin invited the whole leadership of the Polish Party to Moscow for a "fraternal meeting," and then briskly murdered almost all his guests. Fryderyk's relation had been among those extirpated.

As most of the murdered men and women had been of Jewish blood, I asked Fryderyk whether he too was Jewish. No, he replied, his was a Polish working class family from the old Warsaw workers' quarter of Wola. He added proudly, "Our Wola district has always been very struggling." (His English was like that, fluent, odd, but all the more emphatic for its oddity.) "The Wola workers have always been in the vanguard since the Polish rising against the Russian oppressors in 1831."

The bloodstained story of Poland's unending fight for freedom is the passion of all Poles. If you want to make a bar-full of strangers into warm friends, just give the toast, "To Grunwald"—Grunwald having been an early medieval battle in which the Poles utterly annihilated the united armies of the Germans, the Russians and everyone else in this part of the world. So Fryderyk could not resist recounting the Wola workers' other fights for freedom, right down to the last ditch guerilla resistance to the Nazis in 1939.

"I remember it exactly. I fought then," he said. As he looked like a college boy, I remarked that he must have been a rather babyish front fighter. He answered quite seriously, "Oh, not so very young. I was born in 1930, so I was easily able to carry water and ammunition to our men."

Having reached the ripe age of fifteen in 1945, Fryderyk of course fought in the tragic and terrible Warsaw uprising. And having been a Communist by family inheritance, Fryderyk was of course delighted when the party began to rule Poland. By the age of seventeen in fact, when he was accepted for Party membership, Fryderyk was a convinced Stalinist Communist.

"I had doubts in 1949, when Tito was condemned," he said. "For a long time I could not believe Tito was an imperialist agent, but I made myself believe. We all made ourselves believe then. For instance, I nothing knew at first hand of the ways of our secret police, but of course I heard rumors. And I made myself believe that these rumors were spread by imperialist agents."

Poland's plunge into misery during the ultra-Stalinist years: the sudden exposure to young people from the West at the Warsaw Youth Congress—such things as these had already started Fryderyk asking himself uncomfortable questions when the famous Twentieth Party Congress was held in Moscow. As Party Secretary in his professional organization, he was the first to receive the famous Khrushchev speech painting Josef Stalin in his true colors. And this finished Fryderyk as a Communist-by-religious-faith.

"It was a terrible moment for me," he said. "I am young, I sleep well. But that night I could never sleep until the sun came. After that, I began to see all quite new."

So it went on, this curious inner history of Fryderyk, through Poland's time of rising ferment that ended in the glorious October days, when he and others like him, young and old, workers and intellectuals, joined together to free their people. "Those days," said Fryderyk simply, "were the best in my life."

Fryderyk is still a Communist. But he not only wants complete individual freedom, which largely exists in Poland now. He also wants complete press freedom, which does not exist, plus a substantial free sector in the industrial and trading part of the economy, which the Gomulka government is dead against. In these ways, Fryderyk by no means represents the ruling Party apparatus in Poland.

But Fryderyk is representative in two other ways which have a good deal of importance. He represents the young Polish Communist generation who must, after all, some day take over from the older generation. And he represents the many millions of Poles who will surely fight for the limited freedom they have already won if anyone tries to take it away.

A chain, bar and sprocket maintenance clinic, open to the public, held this afternoon at one o'clock at the White Way Drive-in theatre, will be repeated at seven o'clock this evening. An Oregon Saw Chain factory representative is in charge and is demonstrating correct chain filing methods. He is also showing chain saw users proper maintenance technique for saw bars and sprockets. This Pennsylvania corporation makes substantial contributions to Pennsylvania's prosperity

Your telephone company is a Pennsylvania corporation

In the hundreds of communities throughout the state in which the telephone company operates, it is as local as a telephone call from you to your neighbor.

We are a Pennsylvania corporation, owned and financed by private citizens and subject to regulation by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and the Federal Communications Commission.

Our officers have all come up from the ranks. They have spent practically their entire business careers in this company.

Our Board of Directors is composed of outstanding leaders in Pennsylvania business, industry, finance and education. Its members include men from Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Lancaster, Reading and Allentown.

This company is managed and operated by Pennsylvania men and women, many of whom may be your friends and neighbors or even members of your family, and all of whom are your fellow citizens.

Your telephone company makes substantial contributions to Pennsylvania's prosperity

Your telephone company is vital to the progress and prosperity of this great state.

As an employer, for example, we provide steady work at good pay to 39,000 people. Our payroll is more than $177,000,000 a year, and most of it is spent in the communities where telephone people work and live.

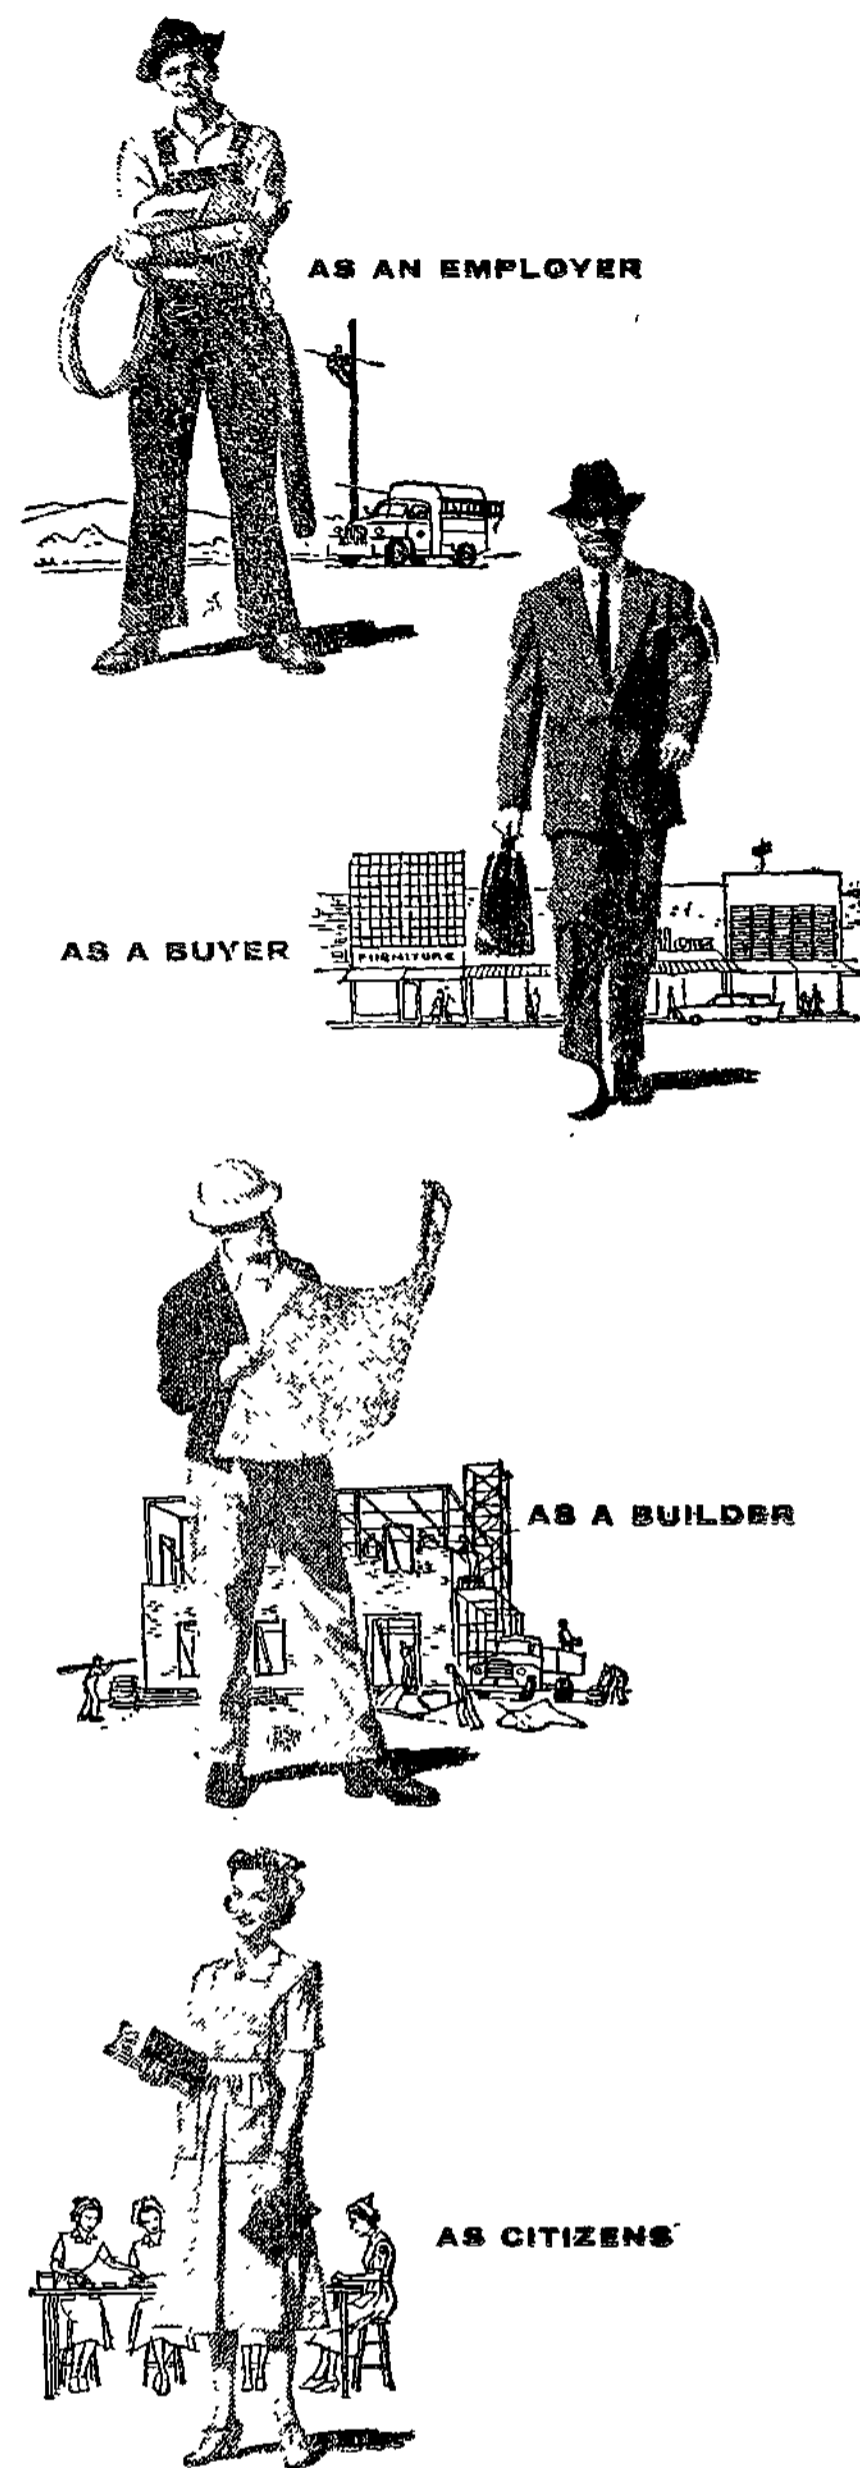

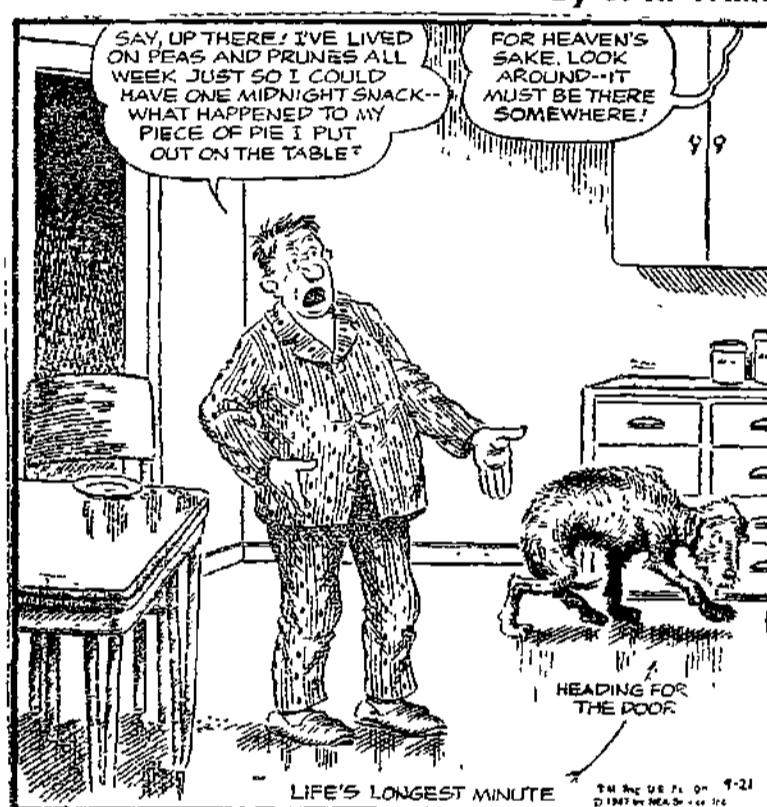

As a buyer—a customer of others—we buy more than $41,000,000 worth of supplies and services each year from small, medium and large local businesses—furniture, typewriters and other office supplies, trucks, tires, gasoline, oil, food, printing, steel, aluminum, concrete and scores of other things.

As a builder, we are spending nearly $14,000,000 this year for the construction of 50 telephone buildings and additions to buildings. Thus we provide jobs and income for thousands of Pennsylvanians not directly on our payroll . . . for bricklayers, carpenters, plasterers, electricians, plumbers.

As citizens, we—the employees—take an active part in civic and charitable causes, both as contributors and as workers and leaders.

We are proud to be part of Pennsylvania and to provide a service so vital to its greatness.

Where Did You First Meet Your New Car?

Was it in an advertisement? So often the first meeting is . . . and how much it means to you and your family now. But it means even more to countless others, whose jobs depend on car sales.

When you buy a car, you help pay the salaries of your local dealer's salesmen. Part of your money went into their bank accounts, to their grocers, to their suppliers here in Warren. The circle goes on widening to include literally thousands all over America . . . all kinds of people in all kinds of jobs.

They buy cars, too, and millions of other items every day. Many of these sales begin with advertising on newspaper pages like this, country-wide.

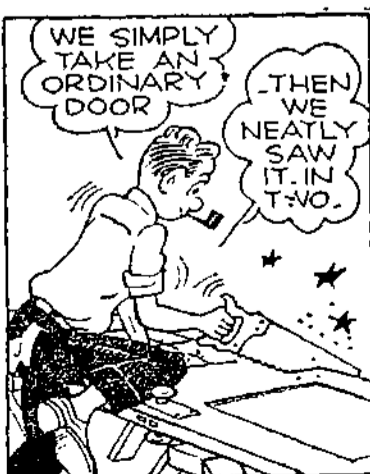

So you can say, truthfully, that every time advertising helps to make a sale, your own paycheck and your family's way of living are just that much more secure.

COLD COMFORT

The news from Johns Hopkins that Dr. Winston H. Price has come up with the first successful vaccine against one of the principal viruses causing the common cold deserves to be hailed widely—and it will be.

In tests this particular vaccine was effective in 80 per cent of the cases where inoculations were made. But the virus in question is only one of many responsible for colds. It accounts for perhaps 30 per cent of such afflictions.

Amid the cheering, however, a few sad notes will be struck. When the common cold begins to go, along with it will go the best copper-riveted excuse for sleeping in that was ever devised by man.

A cold can be miserable. It can also be handy for fudging not just the office but a variety of onerous neighborhood affairs from overcrowded parties to irragy P.T.A. meetings.

And what are the magazines to do when they can no longer drum out pieces entitled, "What to Do About the Common Cold"?

We may indeed be glad when at last this pesky nuisance can be banished by a stroke of the needle. But we'll have to search long and hard to find another refuge so great and comforting.

IMPORTANT CENSUS

A census of all former polio patients is being taken by the Warren County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The aim is to determine the rehabilitation needs of all former victims of the disease. There may be some post-polio sufferers in the county for whom no record has been kept and who may be helped through modern rehabilitation methods unknown or unused at the time the disease struck. All former patients, whether diagnosed as paralytic or nonparalytic, are urged to write or phone the chapter in care of Mrs. T. J. Crozier, 464 Prospect street, Warren. The phone number is 592-M.

Dare to Be a Daniel

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

WHAT are the typical hymns or songs that young people in the churches are singing? My own observation recently has been limited, but until a year or two ago I was active in interdenominational churches. I was pleased to note a return to what seemed to me substantial and vigorous hymns of faith and life in contrast to some former sentimentalisms and popularizations.

In most churches, a common preference seemed to be for the "Crusader's Hymn," "Fight the Good Fight" and songs of martial or marching quality still had much acceptance.

But I have missed some of the hymns that were most familiar in my youth, though I think that one satisfactory thing is that young people seem to be increasingly singing the great hymns of the church, the hymns that are for all as well as for the young.

I think that the song most typical, and perhaps most commonly sung in my youth, in the Methodist circles in which I grew up, was "Dare to Be a Daniel." I haven't heard it sung in many years, and it isn't even in the hymnbook that I have most commonly used. Yet I remember how persistently we used to have it out at the top of our voices, and I think it left a deep and permanent impression upon our characters and actions. I know at least that it did on mine.

Dare to be a Daniel! Dare to stand alone! Dare to have a purpose firm, Dare to make it known.

A commonly expressed criticism of life today is of the sort of mass psychology that influences so many lives. It means an unwillingness to be different, when one OUGHT to be different.

On a high level it means following a social pattern which may have little to commend it. On a low level it means being 'one of the gang' and has a lot to do with the problem of juvenile delinquency.

Those who dare to be Daniels don't become delinquents. There is, of course, reason for conformity to all that is right and proper. There is no inherent virtue in individuality and nonconformity. It depends upon the quality of the individuality, and what it is to which one refuses to conform.

I once knew a minister who, according to a member of his congregation, used the word "world" in a sermon 45 times, and every time pronounced it "wold." When she asked him why, his reply was that "a man must have some individuality." That sort of individuality is sheer silliness.

One can be a Daniel without being a snob or a Pharisee. Humility and consideration for others is consistent with strong convictions and firm conduct. The stronger our convictions the greater respect we ought to have for the strong convictions of others.

The Book of Daniel has long been a controversial issue among Biblical scholars, who differ as to its date and authorship, but there can be no question about the strong character that is its hero, or about what we mean when we say, "Dare to be a Daniel!"

Here and There

Down at Marienville Innkeeper Jess Bennett reports five bears have been attacking unusual attention in the wilds of the Allegheny National Forest four miles east of that village. The friendly bears have been eating out of hands of visitors who have been attracted by the now multi-colored foliage throughout the area. Fearing someone may be injured, the game protector has set traps and will move the bears, if they are caught.

Those wallet-sized birth certificates for native Pennsylvanians, mentioned some time ago in an Associated Press dispatch are available at the State Health Department. The laminated cards cost a dollar. They are the result of a bill introduced by Representative Gus Yaton, of Belts county and passed by the last Legislature.

Later information on the subject is contained in a news item that appeared in Friday's Kane Republican, which says Game protectors were again on the job at the Forest county line area Thursday night, once again shooting bear away from the highway from the dangerous contact with motorists. One of the bears previously was trapped and moved to a new location. Two others, equally as anxious for handouts have been making appearances evenings along Route 68 and the Brookston road which cuts to the right at Ten days in the early fall are the most sacred in the year for five million of our fellow-Americans. These are the High Holy Days of Judaism which begin with Rosh Hashona New Year's Day according to the Hebrew lunar calendar, and end with Yom Kippur the Day of Atonement. This is a time when Jews look back upon the old year and examine their deeds and misdeeds. They look forward to the coming year and the opportunity it brings for being better human beings.

The High Holy Days are marked by repentance, prayer, and charity. At this season it is fitting to pay tribute to the splendid generosity of the Jews, and assess the benefits we all—Jews and non-Jews alike—receive from their philanthropy. One of the many Jewish charities which serve all who need help regardless of faith is National Jewish Hospital at Denver. For 58 years this institution has provided the finest medical care, completely without charge to patients of every religion from every state. Founded originally as a tuberculosis center, it has through the years broadened its program to include all chest diseases, such as heart defects which can be corrected by surgery. The hospital's motto has always been, "None may enter who can pay, none can pay who enter."

This work is more meaningful to us because Jews in our community help support this fine hospital and residents of our state have received 203,288 days of free care at National Jewish Hospital since it opened in 1899. For decades it has been the custom at the medical center for patients—regardless of creed—to send their Jewish friends thanks and appreciation using the traditional Jewish New Year greeting, "May You Be Inscribed in the Book of Life For a Healthy, Happy and Prosperous New Year." This is a fine sentiment.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Washington Group Ponders Woes of Small Businessman

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Just what comes out of President Eisenhower's Conference on Technical and Distribution Research for the Benefit of Small Business—to call it by its full name—will probably take an electronic brain and a couple of economists to decide.

This conference is being held in Washington Sept. 23-25. The President himself is coming down from his Newport vacation to address the opening luncheon, so it must be important. The conference idea grew out of President Eisenhower's creation of a Cabinet Committee to Aid Small Business in May 1956. Three months later the committee made 14 recommendations to the President on how to aid small business. One of them was to call a White House conference on it. This is it.

YOUR AVERAGE BUTCHER, baker or operator of a gift shoppe won't be there, however, and he couldn't get in if he did come. For this is strictly an invitational affair. There is also a $25 registration fee, just to take part.

C. Lincoln Jewett, executive director of the conference, explains how the list of invitations was prepared. "The country was divided into half a dozen regions. Nominating committees were set up in each region. They made up lists of important small business people who should be invited. Commerce Department field office men suggested some. Trade associations, the trade press and business directories provided other names to a total of 5,000."

This list was cut down to 1,000, each of whom received an invitation bearing the signature, and 961 accepted.

Actually, only about half of the 961 are s.m.b.—small business men—to distinguish them from B.B.M.—Big Business Men.

THE OTHER HALF will be selected executives of small business associations, educators specializing in technology and marketing scientists and engineers from regional research labs, management consultants, marketing and distribution consultants, opinion and public relations analysts, industrial psychologists, advertising agency men, government experts from Commerce Department and Small Business Administration.

As can be seen from this top-drawer line-up, the conference will offer little for the corner grocer or back-alley garageman. As the conference background memorandum declares:

"It is recognized that other problems, such as taxation, financing, labor relations and how to get government contracts confront small businessmen and are often predominant in their thinking. However, these problems are being handled by other means and are outside the scope of this conference."

Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University, will be general chairman of the conference. After opening sessions for all delegates on Monday, the conference is scheduled to break down into many small workshop discussions.

AS TO WHAT THE CONFERENCE is expected to accomplish, Mr. Jewett head of the Washington office for Arthur D. Little, Inc., research organization, declares:

"We hope it will broaden the knowledge of the attendees on how they can help themselves and how they can get to be bigger businesses. Many of today's big businesses started out as small businesses."

"We hope this knowledge will filter out to the field through the trade press. The proceedings of this conference will probably be published and offered for sale through Government Printing Office. An Action Committee under Dr. Walker, the general chairman, will sit down after the conference is over and figure out what to do next."

Neglected Wives Find Ways to Feel Important

O.KAY, men, do you really want to know how to curb your wife's appetite for "things" and slow down her social ambitions so that you can take life a little easier?

The answer for many of you is so simple you may not believe it. Just try giving your wife a more generous helping of affection, companionship and appreciation.

Men are smart about a lot of things, but many of them are pretty stupid about women.

They don't seem to realize that unless a man is willing to make an effort to keep his wife happy he is going to have a frustrated discontented woman on his hands. And an unappreciated wife is going to make life tough for him—not intentionally—but because she has to find some way to feel important.

Maybe she'll decide to be the best-dressed woman in her crowd because the envy and admiration of other women help to minimize her husband's seeming indifference to her.

SHE HAS WAYS

OR she may turn the art of homemaking into a nagging need to make her house a show place. Then she will begin to think of it as "my house," if her husband doesn't help her to make it a home.

Or she may get the social bug, thinking that she can make up for an unsatisfactory marriage by being a social leader.

Unhappy wives have endless ways of compensating for a husband's lack of attention and appreciation. And most of them keep a man's nose to the grindstone.

It's a wise husband whose wife feels she is the luckiest of women — simply because she is his wife.

Archer-MacEwen Wedding Is of Interest Locally

Donald MacEwen, of 325 Chase street, was married to Jack Morris Archer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Archer of 413 West Hemlock avenue, formerly of Warren.

Rev. Clarke M. Cochrane performed the double ring ceremony. Wedding music was furnished by Frank Forsythe, Mrs. Harold L. Johnson and Mrs. H. D. McCluskey.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess-style ballerina dress of white dupioni silk and an elbow length veil of silk allusion attached to a flat silk bow.

Patricia Ann MacEwen was maid of honor for her sister; aides were Mary Elizabeth MacEwen, another sister, and Linda Baker, in ballerina-length gowns of rainbow-hued organza over taffeta.

Rev. Bruce Ryan of Warren was best man; Richard Crull and Edgar James, ushers.

A reception for 250 guests was held in the church parlors. Priscilla MacEwen and Donna MacEwen were in charge of the guest book; Mrs. J. T. Jeffrey, Mrs. E. E. Davis, Mrs. J. J. Galbo, Mrs. L. H. Walthour, Mrs. W. R. Bentz and Margaret Shinsfelt poured; sides included Mrs. Jean Todarello, Mary Thompson, Alice Cochrane and Alexandra Connelly.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will reside at 10 School street, Kane.

The bride is a graduate of Kane High School, attended Indiana State Teachers College and has been employed at Bentz Furniture Store. The bridegroom graduated from Kane High School, attended Syracuse University and served four years in the U. S. Air Force. One test of a good rubber-bridge player is his ability to visualize ways and means to defeat an adverse contract.

Today's hand defended by Nathan Schulman of New York is a case in point.

Mr. Schulman opened the deuce of spades on the general theory that it is best to attack a major suit. East's queen fell to South's ace and a club lead was won in dummy.

The nine of hearts was led from dummy and lost to Mr. Schulman's queen.

Before making his next lead Nat went into a long huddle. The subject of the huddle was to find a combination of cards that would allow him to beat the contract and Nat finally came up with the winner. Dummy and Nat each held 10 points. East had shown up with the queen of spades for two points, so that only 18 points were unaccounted for. East could have the queen of diamonds and South could still have his no-trump.

East could also have the ten of diamonds and then the hand could be beaten by a diamond lead.

Down on the table came the deuce of diamonds. Dummy played the seven and East played the ten. South held off and also ducked when East continued with the queen. He had to take the third diamond lead and when Nat got in with the ace of hearts his remaining diamond set the contract.

Blue-Red to Enhance 'Pearl' Skin

The arrival of autumn is the cue for a complete change in your make-up colors. This fall, fashion offers lots of blue and red as well as the perennial black. This girl begins (left) with a tinted foundation to achieve a polished pearl look. She uses cleansing cream and lotion before she applies the foundation.

Now (center), she uses two bright accents: royally blue eye-shadow stick applied in a light blending across the lid and in a single stroke at the lower edge of the lid for a bolder effect. Final touch is creamy lipstick in a vivid new red (right) that's perfect with the blues, reds and blacks of autumn.

SOMETHING new in beauty always brings spice and excitement to the life of a woman who cares how she looks.

When the cool weather ends, we're delighted to put aside dark dresses and meet the summer sun in pretty pastels. But now with fall here, we find we're tired of summer cottons and look forward eagerly to the new autumn styles.

In honor of Queen Elizabeth's coming visit, blue and red are predominantly featured this year and elegance is the keynote of fall fashions. Brown, gray and the ever-popular black will also be plentiful.

To look your best in any season, your make-up should highlight the colors you elect to wear. The regal fashions this autumn call for striking accents in lip and eye make-up, while the complexion itself should have the cool contrast of a polished pearl.

A tinted make-up base, chosen a shade lighter than the skin tone, and face powder in a shade a bit darker will give you the delicate look of a fair skin that has been teased into color by a fresh breeze.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

A clear red lipstick is called for, and one leading cosmetic house offers this shade, tinged with blue. It should be lustrous with browns and blacks, an exciting accent with gray, and perfection with the great blues and reds of fall.

Rouge and nail polish should be clear red, too. And rouge should be applied more lightly than usual and more widely over the cheekbone.

When eye make-up is applied properly, the eyes can be almost any woman's best feature. Whenever possible, the natural line of the brows should be followed and darkened with short, feathery strokes of an eye-brow pencil. Long, heavy lines that will give an artificial look should never be used.

You will want, of course, to choose the shade of eye shadow and mascara that best complement your coloring and costume. But you might want to try a new clear, bright, eye shadow now available that's been especially designed to enhance the regal styles of fall.

Medium length hair styles, soft to the face, will be popular. They are easy to manage and pretty to see.

'Operation Help' Really Proves Itself in Honolulu

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

ONE day two years ago a child in my city was set upon by other children—and killed, murdered, done to death at the age of 13. That night I wrote three columns. They proposed a new plan called "Operation Help" for the control of juvenile crime.

They pleaded for a new municipal department to be called the Family Emergency Service, staffed by social workers operating with subordinate police officers in teams of two. The service's function would be to make a team available by telephone call from any embattled parent or child, not only to bring under control the immediate conflict, but to judge the need for continuing help and referral to community guidance agencies.

I SUGGESTED that its telephone number be REconciliation 1-1000—and that the number be widely publicized for what it was: security to which any child or parent strained beyond his strength could cry out the real appeal in his heart, "Bring us together again, please."

Among other newspapers, the columns appeared in the Honolulu Advertiser. One of its executives, Gerald B. Burnett, is also his city's community services director. He took the plan to his chief of police, its Children's Court people, its director of public welfare—and some time after, it was adopted under the name of Operation Help.

The other day from the juvenile crime prevention division of the Honolulu police department, I received the first report on its progress.

THE report says: "In January 1956 we adopted a bold new approach in the field of prevention. Under this project, a child welfare worker is assigned to assist in the adjustment of family situations which appear to be contributory to the delinquency of a child or children. Providing direct referral to Operation Help has enhanced cooperation between police officer and social worker. It has resulted in faster and better service at less cost to the community. We hope that it will be able to continue with its much-needed program."

It added, "Proper counseling may change the whole future of a potential delinquent."

I needed this news. For just last month in my mainland city's Children's Court, I had sat in on the arraignment of a group of shut-faced children charged with setting upon another child—and killing him, murdering him, doing him to death.

New Laundry Equipment Has Built-In Know-How

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

MANUFACTURERS of automatic home laundry equipment for 1958, recognizing the changes in fabrics and washday procedures, have set up a precise type of clothes care that forecasts even rosier washdays ahead.

The consideration of a replacement for my automatic washer which is slowing to a halt after seven years of almost daily use, points up some of the major changes in laundering techniques.

Synthetic fabrics, blends, special finishes on natural fibers, washable woollens, all are taking over more wardrobe space.

They've brought with them specialized instructions for their care—irrigating, no spinning, cold water rinses, and so on.

JUST LOOK AT your own laundry shelf for a clue to the additives we're using for particular purposes.

In addition to the detergents, you're apt to have on hand two or three bleaches, bluing, fabric softeners, water conditioners and antistatic agents.

THE BACK PANELS of new washers are a marked change from the simple, two-dial water temperature and time controls on my old machine.

Most new machines have either several dials or pushbutton keys, or both. Dials permit you to select individual wash, rinse, water temperature, spin speed and time for the particular material you're washing.

In case you forget what fabric

The new washers and dryers "think" in addition to doing the laundry. Washer-dryer combination, shown, has automatic temperature and speed control, plus mechanism that shuts dryer off when clothes are dry.

takes which procedure, many offer some type of built-in instruction which you can dial.

AT LEAST ONE new machine takes over the whole process for you. Push keys divide the famtion to suit the material being washed.

PROVISION IS MADE in most of the top-of-the-line machines for dispensers that release rinsing agents automatically at the right time.

Some changes, too, have been made in design of agitator-type machines. Those changes improve washing action without harming delicate fabrics and permit thorough cleansing of such hard-to-wash items as Johnny's blue jeans.

THE NEW DRYERS offer greater precision, automatic operation and safety for fabrics. A feature of some of them is an automatic dry key. Push this key and a thermostatic control shuts off the dryer when clothes are just dry, to avoid over-drying of the fabric.

Lower heat temperatures plus greater and more efficient circulation of air also give promise of safe and rapid drying of fabrics.

In one dryer I saw, there's a device which dampens previously dried clothes to make them ready for ironing.

SUITS made of synthetic fibers or a blend containing a high percentage of such material can be "pressed" in one dryer.

This unit has a "dewrinkling" pushbutton. When put through this cycle, a crumpled suit, washed or not, comes out of the machine wrinkle-free and ready to wear.

Styling in the new lines follows the straight, squared-up look of kitchen equipment to suggest a "built-in" installation. Back panels are lighted and often colorfully trimmed.

Many in Attendance at Installation of Chimes

Russell—The Methodist church was filled to capacity and many came from away to attend the service of dedication for the Dr. C. H. VerMilyea Memorial Chimes. The program in detail:

Prelude, Mrs. Robert Mack; hymn—His Saving Grace Proclaim; anthem—Sweet Peace, the Gift of God's Love; presentation of chimes, Mildred Wiltzie, chairman of the community committee; acceptance, Ralph Swanson, president of the Board of Trustees; dedicatory service by the minister and congregation.

Dedication address—Let God's Glory Sound Forth—the Rev. Harold Knappenberger, superintendent of the Jamestown Methodist church; special music on the organ and chimes, Richard Corbin; hymn—Let the Creator's Praise Arise; Benediction.

Also dedicated during this service was the chimes installation, amplifying system, clock for the Men's Sunday School Class in memory of John Van Orsdale.

LADIES' AUXILIARY

Garland—The regular meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Briggs, the vice president, Mrs. Granville Bailey, leading the group in devotion and conducting the business session.

It was decided to hold a bake-rummage sale in the vestibule of the church September 26-28 and items may be turned over to any member. Concluding the evening, lunch was served by the hostess.

SOUTH STREET PTA

First fall meeting of South Street PTA is scheduled tonight at 8:00 o'clock, preceded by parent-teacher classroom visitation at 7:30. Paul Shogren is in charge of the program, and all parents are urged to attend.

Two Southwestern Teen-Agers Prove-- Golfing Develops Healthy Youngsters

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent

MUSKOGEE, Okla.—(NEA)—Mr. and Mrs. John Stone have never met Jim and Mary Jane Haynie of Austin, Tex., but each couple has a teen-age daughter that is a golf champion, and a formula for whipping juvenile delinquency.

The formula is simple. Says John Stone:

"Introduce a child to golf as soon as he is old enough to carry a club and the delinquency problem has licked itself."

To which Jim Haynie voices a hearty:

"You bet! Put a youngster on a golf course and he will develop a character that will be a blessing and a pleasure to his parents."

Fourteen-year-old Sandra Haynie acts true to her age blowing bubble gum expertly. But the tiny Texas lass is expert on the links, too.

Whether or not this formula is a cure-all for the problem is as yet unknown. In the case of the two champions, 17-year-old Beth Stone, a two-time winner of the Oklahoma Junior Girls' Championship, and Sandra Haynie, the 14-year-old Texas Women's Public Links Champion for 1957, it certainly holds true.

Beth is tall, around five feet, six or seven inches and weighs about 115-120 pounds. Sandra is not much taller than the golf bag she lugs around the course, exactly five feet, and she weighs 85 pounds—soaking wet. Each has blonde hair, slightly streaked by the sun, clear gray-blue eyes and a handshake that is firm and friendly.

BETH OFTEN plays in a mixed foursome at the Muskogee Country Club and the women insist she play her drives from the men's tee. They're right down the middle, for the most part, and are good for more than 200 yards. Sandra plays the women's tee at Austin's municipal course. Her average is between 185 and 190 yards.

Dedicated to golf, there is little time for any other activities in the lives of these busy girls. But they are both top-notch students as well.

Dating for Beth ceased in junior high. She finds her relaxation polishing and waxing her clubs after each round of golf and in strumming her ukulele. Boy! to Sandra are just someone else to beat on the golf course.

plonship Flight of the Women's State Amateur. She was eliminated in the semi-finals. In 1955-56 she won the State High School Championship and is the winner of the State Junior Girls' Championship for 1956-57.

Because a pro at the Midland, Tex., Country Club liked the way Sandra walked, she is now the Texas Women's Public Links Champion for 1957. Runner-up and consolation winner in many women's tournaments in Texas, the public links title is Sandra's first major victory.

get an Electric Water Heater and... LIVE BETTER...Electrically

Compare a modern, completely automatic ELECTRIC water heater with any other water heating method for safety.

You have to watch an old-fashioned, open-flame heater. The outside surface is often hot. You have to remember to turn it on and off, up and down. Vents must be provided for smoke, fumes and odors.

An electric water heater is safe! It never needs watching. There is no danger because there are no flames or fumes. The outside is always cool.

S-E-P-T-E-M-B-E-R!

By Elizabeth M. Dufresne

It's September now, the weather's cool
And days are not so long.
The peaceful quiet at eventide
Provoked in me this song.

The children all are back in school
Their summer fun is done.
No 'dripped on' floors from bathing suits
No plans for picnic fun.

No barefoot kids to cut their feet
From working in the soil.
No mud-tracked kitchen floors to wash
No sunburned backs to oil.

Vacation is ruined if they are asked
To do some 'little deeds'.
Just look at all the plants they've ruined
While pulling out some weeds.

The neighbor kids had all moved in
Or mine had all moved out.
I never knew which ones were which Until I'd sort them out.

The noise they made, the quarrels they had Nearly drove us all insane.
We soon began to count the days
Until they'd be in school again.

At last! that glorious day arrived
They were off to school once more.
The first day we enjoyed the peace.
No banging kitchen door!

The second day the quiet came
And left us so alone—
We soon began to count the hours
Until they'd be coming home.

We gripe and fuss about the noise
They make when they're about
But laughing, shouting, noisy kids
We cannot do without.

For some day school time will be done
And they'll be home no more.
Then we'll wish we could retrace our steps
Back to those days of yore.

WARREN DRAGONS MANAGE A 6-6 TIE WITH FRANKLIN TEAM

Warren High Dragons faced a Franklin-controlled early part of the gridiron match Friday at Franklin, but forced the Knights to hold on in the second half finally ending with a 6-6 deadlock. Captain Connie Hultman drove over the line for a TD in the third quarter, despite colliding head-on with a slashing Frankler.

A seven yard dash off right guard by quarterback Butch Connor gave Franklin a 6-0 lead. The coming play came in the first minute of the second period. The harguing Warren line stopped the extra point attempt by Bill Chamberlain.

Coach Ralph Veight's eleven were fired up and turned a fumble into their second half scoring drive. Leaping on a loose ball on the Franklin 45, Kelly McCool opened the threat.

Dragon quarterback Lou Masaro, with his running and a timely pass, moved the ball to Franklin's one yard line. A screen pass from Masaro to Hultman, moved the ball from the 11-yard line to the line.

Before the Knights gave up the young touchdown, they held for three plays, led by the line-backing work of Blaine Kuhn. With first down on the one-yard line, left halfback Dick Terry was hauled for a three-yard loss by Kuhn. Hultman then moved the ball through center back to the line. Next play, Hultman scored by tying TD.

Sugar Ray Robinson Defends His Title Tonight Against Basilio in New York Arena

By MURRAY ROSE

New York (AP)—Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson defends his title tonight against Carmen Basilio in a battle of champions that could be quick and explosive.

The 30-year-old welterweight from Chittenango, N. Y., is a 5-7 choice to dethrone the 36 or 37-year-old Sugar Ray in a fight scheduled for 15 rounds at Yankee Stadium. The betting is 1 to 3 the fight won't go the limit.

This is based on Basilio's aggressive body-punching style and Robinson's taunted sharp-shooting ability and preference for an opponent who comes to him. And the heavier walloping Robinson will have a weight edge of about eight pounds, 159 to 151 and a decided advantage in height 5-11 to 5-7½ and reach 72½ to 67.

Airlines Give Wolverines of Sheffield a 26 to 13 Decision

Sheffield took to the air lanes Saturday for three of its four touchdowns in a 26-13 verdict over Northern Area. The victory was Sheffield's second straight and marred Northern Area's opener.

Sheve Rosetti passed for two of the Sheffield scores. He hit Fred Benson with a 10-yarder and Jim Rudolph with another toss. Rudolph, in turn, found Benson with a 15-yard heave for the other touchdown. Lee Mall scampered nine yards for the lone Sheffield TD on the ground.

White Sox Still May Tie New York Yanks For A. L. Pennant

Cleveland (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today still have a chance of tying the New York Yankees for the American League pennant.

The second-place White Sox limmed the Cleveland Indians 9-5 yesterday to remain six games behind the league-leading Yankees but still in running for the flag. Billy Pierce received credit for Chicago's victory and became the first pitcher in the American League to win 20 games this season. He has lost 11.

Pierce was removed for a pinch hitter in the sixth when Chicago was trailing 3-2, but his teammates scored four runs in that frame and all the runs went on Pierce's ledger to give him the victory. Jerry Staley then finished the game, yielding two runs. Cleveland used four pitchers. Mike Garcia started. The loss was charged to Bob Alexander.

Formalities of Crowning the Yanks and Braves for Series May be Concluded During Day

By ED CORRIGAN

The Associated Press
Only the formalities of crowning the New York Yankees champions of the American League and the Milwaukee Braves rulers of the National League remained to be taken care of today.

These details could be settled tonight when the Chicago White Sox play Kansas City and the Braves meet St. Louis.

The Yanks assured themselves of at least a tie for the AL flag yesterday when they whipped the Boston Red Sox.

If the Cards lose one of the three-game set with the Braves, they can start counting their second-place money.

The White Sox kept their faint hope alive yesterday by stopping the Cleveland Indians 9-5.

The Braves clubbed the Chicago Cubs 9-7, but the Cards stayed with them by halting Cincinnati 7-5.

Among the also-rans, Brooklyn defeated Philadelphia 7-3, and Pittsburgh vanquished New York 5-1 in the National League. In the American, Baltimore edged Washington 6-5, and Kansas City won a double-header from Detroit 4-2 and 2-1.

The Yanks walked to their victory over Boston. Four of their five runs were forced in through walks. Until the sixth inning, it was a close ball game.

West Newton Pa. (AP)—An auto killed Simon Uchirinsko, 82, of West Newton R. D. 1, as he walked in a heavy rain last night along a rural road near this Westmoreland County town. State police identified the driver as Robert Landsperger, 39, of West Newton.

"HEADS I WIN"—It's doubtful James R. Hoffa, 44, would let the flip of a coin decide any of his strategy in the battle for presidency of the powerful Teamsters Union. The Detroit labor leader is a top candidate for the post. He flips the coin while being interviewed at union council meeting in Miami Beach, Fla.

Pittsfield Woman on Critical List After Head-On Auto Crash

A critical injury and two pleas of innocent to drunk driving charges typified the weekend highway picture.

Mrs. Lenore Clark, 35, of Pittsfield, was critically injured about 10:30 Sunday night when the car in which she was riding was rammed into head-on on Route 27 three and one-half miles south of Sugar Grove. Mrs. Clark sustained a fractured skull among her multiple fractures.

Her husband, Noble Clark, 35, was also taken to Warren General Hospital. He is in "apparently satisfactory" condition with a chin laceration and possible fracture of the right leg. An 11-month-old daughter, Kristen, was also admitted to the hospital with facial laceration.

A 6-year-old son, Gregory, also a passenger in the vehicle, escaped injury. Damage was estimated at $4,000.

Driver of the northbound car, Elizabeth Shanahan, 25, of Lakewood, N. Y., was taken to WCA Hospital in Jamestown suffering lacerations, her condition is reported "good". Troopers said the mishap "evidently occurred in the Clark lane."

Pleading innocent to drunk driving charges over the weekend were George B. Johnson, 42, of 264 Pleasant Drive, and Leo S. Brown, 27, of RD 2, Sunclaireville. Both were picked up near Times Square on Pennsylvania avenue.

ATOP THE WAVES—Luxury passenger ships a few years hence may be equipped with hydrofoils enabling them literally to fly through the water at speeds up to 100 m.p.h., according to an article by artist-author Frank Tinsley in Mechanix Illustrated Magazine. Hydrofoils are wing-like devices attached to legs beneath a ship. When under way they lift the hull out of the water and increase speed and stability. Over 50 years old in principle, hydrofoils only recently have been tried on large craft, by the U.S. Navy and others. Tinsley, in his drawing above, predicts their use on large transatlantic liners that would make the trip to Europe in two days. The luxury liner would have rounded glass deck enclosures, a submarine-type conning tower and stern fins with bullet-like deck bridges.

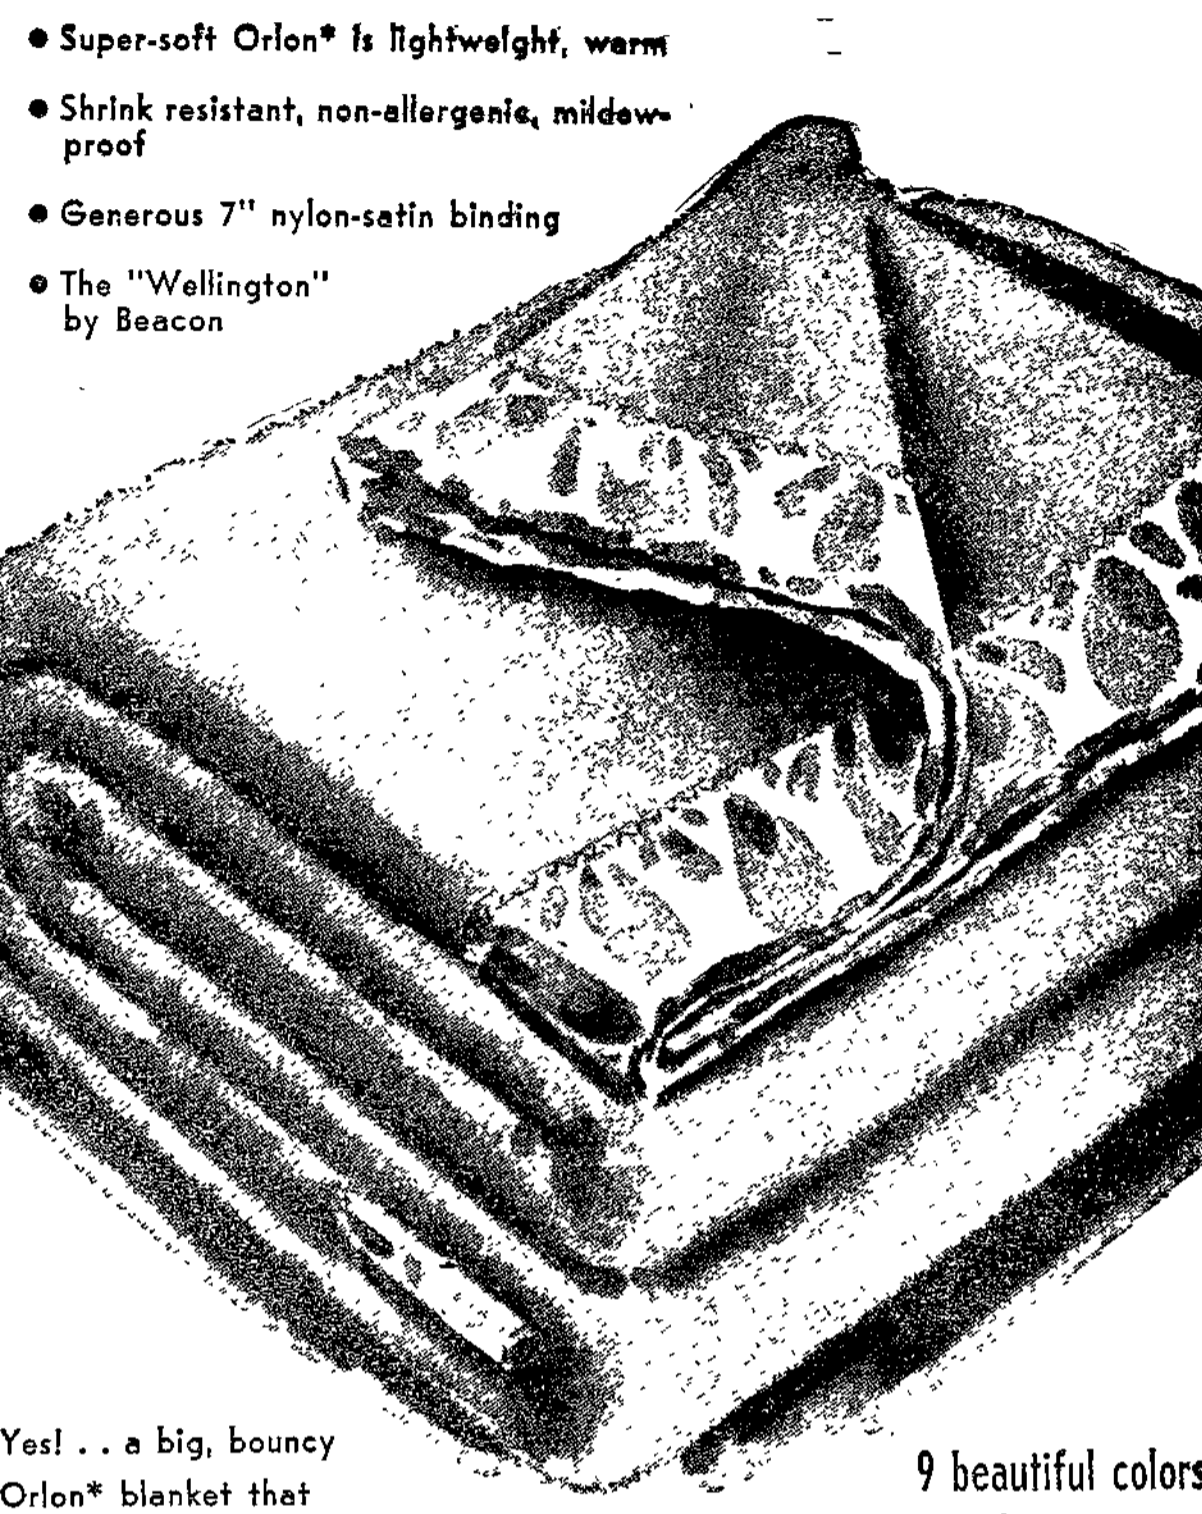

FAMILIAR VOICE—David Ozersky, 16, blinded and his face scarred by acid, identifies the voice of his alleged attacker, Maurice Kessler, 17, right. Ozersky was showered with liquid lye in a New York City high school classroom. The lye burned 19 other pupils and a teacher. Kessler allegedly threw lye at Ozersky because the victim was a complainant against him in a morals case.
